THE SINCLARE ALLEN ATTO COMP

ELECTION IN MASSACHUSETTS SHOWS TEMPER OF VOTERS.

Victory of Eugene N. Foss Presages Democratic Triumph in the Coming Struggle-New Tariff Bill to Be Repudiated.

If President Taft has doubted the attitude of the people of the United States toward the Aldrich-Taft tariff, his doubts should be dispelled by the election of Eugene N. Foss, with a Democratic majority of 5,640, in the Fourteenth Massachusetts congressional district, to succeed a man who was chosen by a Republican plurality of 14,250 two years ago

Mr. Foss made his campaign on a straight tariff issue. His sweeping victory is a protest against the Aldrich-Tatt law and a repudiation of the Republican party by the inner temple of republicanism.

Senator Lodge led the fight agains Mr. Foss. President Taft himself took part in the campaign, making a special trip to Providence, and defending the tariff in a public speech within a few miles of the battlefield.

There was no local issue. The tariff alone was in contest; the voters of the Fourteenth district emphatically expressed their dislike and distrust of the tariff and its sponsors.

The Aldrich-Taft tariff and the Re publican party are discredited in the very cradle of protection. Republican grand dukes and tariff barons are defled by their own followers. The common people are in open revolt against the interests. The vassals have turned against their feudal lords.

When such a popular uprising occurs within the very shadow of the Sacred Codfish that hangs on Beacon hill there is not a doubt of Democratic victory all over the country at the congressional elections this fall.

The real insurgents are not in congress. They are the people. An insurgent populace does not with good grace withhold its hand, once nerved by victory. The example of the Bay state is inspiring. It does not require an ear of unusual keenness to detect the rumbling of the tumbrils, bearing the flower of our standpat aristocracy to the political guillotine, where the voter with the ballot-ax will administer the coup de grace.

THINKS TOO MUCH OF PARTY

Public Utterances of President Taft Have Not Shown Him to be a Statesman.

Ever since he first apologized for the Aldrich-Taft tariff on the ground that it was the best measure he could secure from congress without dividing Republicans and endangering the G. O. P., President Taft has urged party solidarity on any and every oc-

His utterance at the Hamilton club was no exception to the rule he has apparently set for himself in this

In Mr. Taft's estimation Republican unity is of greater importance than wise lawmaking. He believes himself to be president of the Republican party and president of the United States second. He considers government as a function for the benefit of officeholders and not for the people.

The Taft idea that it is more important to retain public offices for Reolders than t good government at risk of party failure closely affects not only every man in office, but every man, irrespective of party, who hopes to obtain office. The Journal does not believe that this country has reached such a stage of imperialism that the people approve any plan to retain one set of officeholders forever, or contemplate with equanimity the prospect of a ruling class as distinguished from private citizens.-Chicago Journal.

Nonsense Still Survives.

The elaborate piece of nonsense known as weighing the mails for the purpose of adjusting the railroad contracts has just been carried out again after the usual lapse of four years. Let us hope that this is for the last time and that it was done without the concealment of grindstones, stray messenger boys, and other unconsidered but weighty trifles of a like kind. The system may have been all very well when the mail consisted of a few bags piled up in a mail car, but that it should survive to the present day goes a long way to prove the immortality of foolishness.

In his defense of "Our Policies"mine and Aldrich's-the thing of most probable truth was Mr. Taft's admission that the people are likely to return a vote of want of confidence in the administration at the fall elec-

"Teamwork needed," says Mr. Taft. But he and Mr. Aldrich seem to be playing in together beautifully.

President and Press.

The president's criticisms of the newspapers are not highly edifying. The newspapers as a whole satisfy the demands that are made upon them by the public.

If office-holders would attend as closely to business as most of the newspapers do, and come as near fulfilling their promises and obligations to the people, they would not have much reason to find fault with their surroundings.

The President at Providence.

At a dinner given by a lot of protected manufacturers, in the home town of Senator Aldrich, and with Mr. Aldrich alongside of him, President Taft last night once again made his speech in high praise of the new tariff law. Mr. Taft has formed the habit of defending the tariff law. We can think of no better place than Provi-dence in which to indulge the habit. Judging from the enthusiastic recep-tion which was accorded to Mr. Taft, one can only conclude that his speech commended itself to the auditors.

PEOPLE HAVE SEEN TRUSTS CAUSE HIGH PRICES

Governor Hadley Shows How Tariff Has Been Responsible for the Squeezing of the Consumer.

In trying to locate the blame in the present high prices of living it must be remembered that as a general proposition it is true that no general economic condition is due to any one cause. The industrial trust has, however, had a very important influence in bringing about the increase in the cost of the necessities of life. For these combinations have, in effect, repealed the law of supply and demand and done away with the old theory that "competition is the life of trade." A concrete example will serve as an illustration:

In 1896, oil was selling in St. Louis, Mo., for 61/2 cents a gallon. Ten years later, at the time I instituted suit in the name of the state of Missouri against the Standord Oil trust, it was selling for 91/2 cents a gallon, and during this period the production of crude petroleum throughout the country had almost doubled, with a consequent decrease in price, and the production in the Kancas and Oklahoma oil fields had increased from $1,000 barrels in 1901 to 12,000,000 barrels in 1906, and its price had declined from $1.20 a barrel in 1901 to 40 cents a barrel in 1906. The competition made possible as a result of this litigation brought about a reduction in the price of oil in the state of Missouri from 91/2 cents in 1906 to 61/2 cents in 1908.

The same condition that existed in the off business has existed, to a certain extent, in the fixing of the price of live stock and the price of beef. The increase in the price of cattle has not yet kept pace with the increase in the price of beef. This fact demonstrates that the same influences have operated in this industry as in the oil business .- Gov. H. S. Hadley, in The Delineator.

Campaign Publicity.

After gathering dust for months, Representative McCall's bill providing for compulsory publicity for congressional campaign contributions and expenses has been rescued from the committee pigeon-hole where it has been held up. The bill is strictly in line with the recommendations made by Mr. Taft in his message to congress at the beginning of the present session, but even as an administration measure it was deliberately slighted. Only the pressure brought to bear by persons not engaged in politics saved it from being suppressed.

Campaign managers of Mr. Taft's own party in the last congressional elections refused to publish their accounts. How much money was raised to elect a majority of the house of representatives which was about to revise the tariff, who contributed it and how it was spent, is still a secret. It is still a scandal that while one campaign committee rendered a fair statement, another of the same party concealed the facts.

Mr. Taft has wisely urged that there shall be an end of such methods. Public sentiment strongly supports him. Another congressional campaign is approaching. If the leaders of congress seek to stave off action until next winter or later they will have no excuse to offer except that they believe the secret use of money to be neces sary to their party's success.

Roosevelt and the Tariff.

It would be hard to imagine anything more absurd than the expectation that Mr. Roosevelt will return from South Africa belted and spurred for a crusade against the tariff, seeing that no one ever showed more dexterity in evading that issue at its every presentation. Disappointment at the tariff result is admittedly wide, and it is probably growing, but those who look for denunciatory fireworks from Mr. Roosevelt must have particularly bad political memories. If prece dents have any value, the tariff reformers should thank the fates that Mr. Taft was at the White House instead of Mr. Roosevelt. They did at least get more sincere declarations upon the subject, and this is more than Mr. Roosevelt ever gave them .-San Francisco Argonaut.

A Thing to Be Considered.

Los Angeles Times, speaking for the Republican party, says Mr. Taft will be a two-term president. What the Republican party, speaking for itself ,may say, remains to be seen. Perhaps Mr. Taft may receive a second nomination. "Judge," one of the leading national Republican organs, is already conceding the defeat of the Republican party. But it is too early to prophesy. A great deal depends on the dinner-pail. Unless that useful article is replenished and is kept well filled, the Republican organization will find itself in a hopeless popular minority.-Boston Globe (Rep.).

The old boast, that the house rules made it "do business" seems capable of amendment. The house seems to prefer to do the business it wants to do, and not the business that the speaker wants done.

Voters Will Not Be Deceived.

Neither President Roosevelt nor, presumably, President Taft, contemplated making the postal savings banks, provided for in the bill now pending, adjuncts of Wall street instead of financial aids to the respective communities in which such banks might be situated. But the bill, as framed, would divert the additional deposits into the hands of the money changers of New York.

SPLENDID CROPS, BIG PRICES, AND PROSPEROUS OUTLOOK FOR THE FUTURE.

Throughout all of Canada, and especially in the Western Provinces of Canada, there is a buoyancy in every line of business that is fully warranted by every condition. The crops of the past year were what was expected, and the prices for grain of all kinds, put the farmers in a class by themselves. Many of them are inde pendent, and many others have got well started on the road. The latest reports are that seeding is well under way in almost every district, and the prospects are that a vastly larger area than that under crop last year will be seeded early this spring. In the Lethbridge district, in Southern Alberta, steam and gasoline outfits, hundreds of them, are breaking up the prairie at a tremendous pace, but they work night and day. As soon as it becomes dark, gangs are changed, a head light attached, and on, on through the night until the first streak of dawn, these giant monsters with their seven or eight gangs of breaking plows, keep up the work. Then the more modest farmer is put ting in the longest hours possible with his teams of horses or oxen. And what will the Country be like in August, when these fields have become yellowed with the literally golden grain. There will be one vast expanse of wheat field. And there will be a market for it, because it is the best grain grown, and the demand will be everywhere. As previously intimated business throughout Western Canada is sound and good. The grain production of 1909 has been the great factor in establishing the reputation of Western Canada, and it is worth talking about. It surpassed all previous records, both in regard to quality and quantity, and such an achieve ment was by no means easy. The limit has not been reached, and a large average increase may be expected during the next ten years. There will be odd seasons when a is not necessary to wash it off the wall when a fresh coat is required.

It is very easy to mix, very simple to apply, but the results are simply beautiful. A whole house can be done at just a little more than the cost of a single room when ordinary materials are used. And this is true, that now that we have so much better materials for use in the decoration of our homes, that wall paper, common kalsomine and paint are now as much out of date as the old time whitewash, tallow candles and rough hewn floors. Mere money is no longer an essential in good housefurnishing in artistic home making.

The new materials and labor-saving machines are most welcome to us all—and every thoughtful woman, every woman who cares for her home, is quick to utilize them. falling-off will occur, and it is the fall ing-off that causes alarms and panics in the commercial world. The plains have done their duty so far in the out-put of grain and it would be reasonable to make occasional allowances for slowing-up. The faster the rate of increase is now, the sharper will be the check when the production diminishes. But there are some unreasonable people who wonder why the

during the next, and at an even faster rate. These same unreasonable people are the ones who see flaws in the situation as soon as an indication is given that the startling advances have not been maintained.
